My dear Mr. Weeks

I am much obliged for your letter. I am not a "collector" and own a thing as the lithograph you mention possesses no interest for me. It is of course the work of some person ignorant of the probable circumstances of the event - So with pretended pictures of the ^{scene} ~~trinity~~ - they easily indicate what is probably was but the actual cabin was a decayed ruin long before my father's election as President -

The Structure ^{now} enshrined in a great marble building in Kentucky is a fraud when represented as the actual home to live with the "Scott Family" pictures - There was never such a group actually assembled:

As to the Harvard picture, I have long had in my library the "Harvard Book" published in 1875 and it contains all of pictures of the College that

Dear Sirs. It has not a copy of a view of 1828 has been made of 1818

Very truly yours
